Interactive Software

User Licence Agreement - Notice to all users

You as the consumer MUST read the following terms and conditions carefully.

The placing of an order implies acceptance of these terms and conditions below and that you have the authority to do so.

Schools should ascertain whether the game/activity/software is suitable for their school by downloading an evaluation version first before placing an order. Once a written authorised school order and a written Interactive Software Site Licence Order Form has been received by Foxstone Education Pty Ltd then the supplier, Foxstone Education Pty Ltd considers this to be a firm order with no right of return or refund unless the software is defective with the purchaser having a right to a refund of the full purchase price or replacement of the defective software.

Foxstone Education Pty Ltd grants your institution a non-exclusive system site licence to install and use the software for a unlimited licence period.

(i) This software is protected by the copyright laws described in the Copyright Act 1968 (Australia) and subsequent amendments. The software and any intellectual rights therein is owned by Foxstone Education Pty Ltd. This software must not be resold, given, or transferred to any other parties without the written authorisation of Foxstone Education Pty Ltd.

(ii) Installing the software may alter, create or change elements of your operating system. We strongly recommend that you ascertain compatibility issues before installing the software on your institution's computers systems and software.

(iii) To the extent permitted by the applicable law, Foxstone Education Pty Ltd will not warrant that the software is free from defects or viruses although we have taken reasonable care to ensure this will not happen. It is strongly recommended that you run a virus check before installing this software. To the extent permitted by the law we also disclaim any indirect, incidental or consequential damages resulting from the installation or use of our software.

(iv) To the extent permitted by the applicable law the total liability of Foxstone Education Pty Ltd will be limited in extent to either a refund of the full purchase price or replacement of the defective software. This licence agreement does not limit liability resulting from gross negligence or fraud. If any part of this licence agreement is unenforceable with any applicable law then the remaining terms and/or conditions will still apply.

(v) This software either the evaluation or full unlocked version must not be resold, given, or transferred to any other parties without the written authorisation of Foxstone Education Pty Ltd.
